Michael W. Kite

Associate

Michael's practice in estate planning and his work with family businesses centers on the belief that the attorney client relationship functions best when his client's goals and concerns are respected and understood. Michael promotes the importance of estate planning for individuals and families of varying financial means and encourages families to engage in difficult conversations now so that larger problems can be avoided in the future.

Michael's easy going yet in depth style of practice has enabled him to be successful working with family businesses through all stages of a company's cycle: formation, development, contract negotiation, mergers and acquisitions and succession planning.

In addition to practicing law, Michael is a financial advisor with Forum Financial Management, LP where he utilizes his knowledge of estate planning and corporate law in a holistic approach to develop strategies to help accumulate wealth and preserve it for successive generations.

When Michael is away from the office he enjoys playing hockey, grilling out with friends, and working within the community. He thanks you for the opportunity to help you define and achieve your dreams.
